

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Taisha N. Barnett and I am writing to you on behalf of The DEMP Project, which stands for David, Esther, Moses and Peter a faith-based nonprofit organization, targeting women in the sex industry and their families. We are here for women trapped in prostitution and sex trafficking as well as lower income families in need of support to rebuild their lives. Our goal is to share the love of Christ while addressing other complex needs such as drug and alcohol additions, housing, family support and much more. As the number of victims of human trafficking and other sex for sale business continue to grow, the need is dire for more organizations like ours to get involved in this great endeavor.

We are one of the latest organizations that will make a difference in Jacksonville and its surrounding communities. We believe in taking bold steps of faith just like the disciples for which our organization is named. We also believe that this great work will touch and heal countless lives. We will operate with the goal of joining with like-minded organizations to build a network that will make a greater impact in our communities and beyond.

We are here to help rebuild and restore, whole women and families, in love through the teachings of God's grace and kindness. We will support you through your pain, which we know will produce strength and perseverance that you can then share with other women such as yourself. "Love is the greatest healer."

This organization was started by a group of women who love God and have walked through the same steps you have to take. God has handpicked them from different walks of life but with the same goal in mind, giving back what He has given them. Our motto is "NO JUDGEMENT, NO FEAR", just open arms of love welcoming women to the first day of their new lives.
